

U.S. Army Combined Arms Center
and Fort Leavenworth

Colonel Bruce J. Reider

Director, Center for Army Leadership, Combined Arms Center

U.S. Army Colonel Bruce Reider is the Director of the Center for Army Leadership (CAL) at the Combined Arms Center, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. CAL is the Combined Arms Center lead for leadership development research, analysis, assessment and evaluation; leadership doctrine; coordination, development and management of initiatives within the Army Training and Leader Development Management Process; and the integration and synchronization of Professional Military Education and Civilian Education System to sustain excellence in growing Army leaders.

During his 27-year military career, Col. Reider has held a variety of leadership and staff positions. His previous assignment was Chief, Policy Division, Multi-National Force – Iraq. Col. Reider is a graduate of the School of Advanced Military Studies' Advanced Operational Art Studies Fellowship and the Advanced Military Studies Program. His civilian education includes two Master of Military Arts and Science degrees from the US Army Command and General Staff College, a Master of Science degree in International Relations from Troy State University, and a Bachelor of Science in Combined Science degree from Youngstown State University, Ohio. Col. Reider's awards and decorations include the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters, Ranger Tab, Senior Army Aviator Badge, Parachutist Badge, Air Assault Badge, and Expert Infantryman Badge.